

ABACO DEFENDERS Here to Stay

The newest group fighting for the Bahamian environment, Abaco Defenders, elected Ms. Fiona Bootle of Treasure Cay, Abaco as their President demonstrating that they are here to stay. Ms. Bootle is a mother and lifetime resident of Treasure Cay. Ms. Bootle has spearheaded this group thus far and says that her involvement is, “Motivated by the lack of respect politicians of the day have for their constituents.”

It is a goal of ABACO DEFENDERS to ensure that our government officials follow our laws and properly represent us in all public matters. We believe they will see the common sense merits of this and act accordingly. This will allow resolution of the public’s concerns regarding developments like Treasure Sands Club, Resorts World Bimini and others to operate without the need for the public resorting to legal action.

“We are very pleased with the public support and awareness so far and would like you to know that ABACO DEFENDERS are just getting started. In the future ABACO DEFENDERS plan to hold informative talks throughout the communities of Abacos,” says Ms. Bootle.

It is our hope that people will take the time to voice their opinion and show their interest in the future of The Bahamas.

“As a group THE ABACO DEFENDERS are willing to work with all investors, provided the proper regulatory requirements have been settled to the satisfaction of the public. We will support their growth well into the future,” states Ms. Bootle.
